

State GOP Delegation In Key Role

Selection of delegates to the Republican National convention from the 15th Congressional district — Monroe, Carbon and Northampton counties — focuses attention on the pre-convention battle for Pennsylvania's big block of 70 votes and the forces involved in that strategic struggle.

The two delegates from the 15th District, B. K. Williams, of East Stroudsburg, the GOP chairman for Monroe county, and Kenneth Kressler, Easton, Republican chairman of Northampton county, are "uninstructed" representatives of this State to the convention.

As of this moment, political observers maintain, a roll-call at a Republican National convention would result in a split of the State's 70 votes for Sen. Robert Taft and Gen. Ike Eisenhower. The line-up, they feel would vary only a few votes in favor of Taft or Eisenhower.

That leaves Pennsylvania, one of the three largest states in voting strength at the GOP nominating convention in Chicago next July, split wide open over an argument about whether Taft or Eisenhower should move into the White House in January, 1953.

The other two big voting states, New York with 96 and California with 70, are rated to be less of a pre-convention battleground. Governor Dewey of New York claims control of most of his state's delegates and has said he'll back Eisenhower. Governor Warren of California with 70 votes is himself a candidate.

Thus, Pennsylvania can become the bellwether on how still undecided delegates in other states will vote at the GOP convention.

Delegates William and Kressler, with the other 69 from Pennsylvania, are thus cast in very vital roles in a political play of unusual magnitude.

By the time the big Chicago convention comes off, Pennsylvania could be top-heavy for Eisenhower — or it might throw in solidly for Bob Taft.

Determining factor which will probably settle the pre-convention maneuvers and settle on which candidate carries the State's prize block of 70 votes, will be the politicians' view of who looks like "the winner."

Key figures in the battle for Delegates Williams and Kressler and the others are:

Sen. James H. Duff, whose fighting qualities as governor earned him the now familiar title of "Big Red," and the so-called Grundy machine.

Duff, who backed Taft in '48 because he disliked Taft less than he disliked Dewey, is a key figure in the Eisenhower-for-president movement. Duff, it must be recalled, was for the late Senator Vandenberg as first choice four years ago, but Vandenberg's campaign never got going.

Four years ago, the so-called Grundy machine picked Dewey. It is now reported to be quietly backing Senator Taft. This group is headed by 89-year-old Joseph K. Grundy who built the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association back in 1909.

Right in the middle of all this and rated "strategically on the fence" is Gov. John S. Fine, whose first choice is reported to be General MacArthur.

The Governor might be called "the balance of power" in the current fracas for delegates because it must be remembered he has the "squeeze" to control delegates through his patronage wand over 50,000 state jobs.

With all sorts of juicy federal and cabinet jobs hanging for the picking by whichever group ties up with "the winner", political observers emphasize that at this stage possibility of a switch from current trends is not ruled out.

Delegates Williams and Kressler, like many other delegates, are right in the middle of all this political game of chess, since each group naturally wants delegates who'll take instructions from its own top men at the time of the show-down in Chicago.

It must be remembered that Delegates Williams and Kressler — with Kressler a strategic leader — were involved in those "grass-roots" state GOP meetings at Hershey, Pa. when Governor Duff sold the state county chairman and committeemen on his hand-picked candidate for governor, Superior Court Judge John S. Fine.

Duff was then and is still rated as an anti-Grundy man. Fine, despite Grundy opposition, became governor of Pennsylvania.

The pattern of events at Harrisburg after Governor Fine took office indicates relations between Fine and Duff cooled, and relations between the Governor and the Grundy machine improved to the point of warmth.

The recent legislative battle over a State income tax proposed by Governor Fine found the Grundy backers, with very few exceptions, supporting Fine's tax (Continued on page three)

Vice President Barkley

Barkley Bids For Spot On 1952 Ticket

Kansas City, Kas., (AP)—Vice President Barkley, 74, is making a powerful bid for a place on this year's Democratic presidential ticket.

Urged unanimously by the mid-western Democratic conference to seek the vice presidency again, the veteran Kentuckian is believed by some friends to have higher ambitions. If he has, he may prove something of a stumbling block in the road of younger men who would like to become the party's presidential candidate or who would settle, in the final showdown, for the vice presidential spot.

Barkley's whole campaign necessarily is under cover until he finds out what President Truman plans to do. If Mr. Truman runs again, the vice-president has left no doubt in anybody's mind he will fight for second place.

If the president doesn't run—as many who attended the midwestern conference which wound up its sessions here Saturday apparently now believe—the Kentuckian can't be counted out of the presidential running at a convention where he always cuts an appealing figure.

Battle Shapes Up For Court Nomination

Harrisburg (AP)—The Republican State organization yesterday lined up behind a state-wide ticket for the April 22 primary headed by U. S. Senator Edward Martin for reelection and Judge John C. Arnold, Clearfield, for the State Supreme court.

However, opposition to slating of Superior Court Judge Arnold developed immediately with announcement by Judge Harold L. Ervin, of the Delaware County Pleas court, that he would seek the GOP nomination for the state's highest court, to be vacated by retiring Chief Justice James E. Drew.

The Republican organization slate also included Auditor General Weldon B. Hepburn, for auditor general. Neither of those officials may succeed himself and it has been customary for those officials to try to switch offices.

The GOP slate was endorsed here Saturday at a conference of Gov. John S. Fine and other top Republican leaders, including Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican State chairman and G. Mason Owlett, Republican national committeeman for Pennsylvania.

U. S. Sen. James H. Duff was absent from the conference but a high GOP source said he approved the four choices.

Mossadegh Ahead

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Prime Minister Mossadegh's National Front took an early lead yesterday in first unofficial national election returns in Tehran.

Six Explosions Rip Illinois City, Causing Heavy Damage

Mattoon, Ill., (AP)—Six gas explosions within 15 minutes ripped downtown Mattoon yesterday causing damages estimated at nearly one million dollars.

Four fires were set by the blasts and at least four persons were hurt, one critically.

A National Guard company and state police patrolled the area. Firemen from four cities brought flames under control.

Shattered glass littered the business section as windows crumbled from impact of the series of blasts.

The explosions all occurred in the 1500 Broadway block but guardsmen and police cleared adjacent areas as a precautionary measure. Patrons of three movies were ordered out and all structures were emptied as buildings were opened to air them out.

King Dismisses Egyptian Cabinet, Picks New Premier To Meet Crisis

Eisenhower Qualifies In New Hampshire

Manchester, N. H., (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has qualified as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in New Hampshire's March 11 primary, Deputy Secretary of State Harry Jackson said last night.

Jackson said the general qualified because he had not notified the secretary to withdraw his name from the ballot.

Under New Hampshire law, a person whose name has been filed has 10 days in which to notify the secretary of state that he is withdrawing.

Jackson said that the general was notified Jan. 17 that is name had been filed.

"Since he has not notified us that his name should be withdrawn," Jackson said, "he has qualified and his name goes on the ballot."

Washington, (AP)—Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) said yesterday he has told President Truman there is "a lot of friendly sentiment" building up in Minnesota for Senator Kefauver of Tennessee as the Democratic presidential nominee.

Humphrey said he emphasized to the President that the Minnesota delegation to the party's nominating convention in July will be for Mr. Truman if he decides to run again.

"But I also told him that if he isn't a candidate, my own sentiment and that of a lot of people in my state will be friendly to ward Senator Kefauver for the nomination," Humphrey added.

Kefauver, former chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating committee announced his candidacy for the White House last week. He said he was in the race to the finish, regardless of whether Mr. Truman seeks reelection.

Humphrey is running in the March 18 Minnesota presidential primary as a "favorite son" candidate. He has said he went into the contest at Mr. Truman's request and that he has no ambition to be president.

West Germany Requests NATO Membership

Paris (AP)—West Germany last night demanded membership in the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) as her price for aiding western defense.

Prof. Walter Hallstein, chief German delegate to six-power European Army talks now going on here, made this demand as he and the other delegates argued over a treaty to establish such a unified force within the NATO organization.

He said Germany should be brought into NATO immediately, or—if this were not possible—under an interim system which would protect Germany's rights.

Hallstein's move rocked the delegates, already upset by new developments in the long-standing quarrel between France and Germany over the rich, coal-mining Saar valley.

Congressman Dies

Albany, N.Y., (AP)—Rep. William T. Byrne (D-NY), died unexpectedly last night about two hours after he had been admitted to a hospital. He was 75. Byrne had been in Congress since 1936 and was a member of the powerful House Judiciary committee.

Motorists Face Two Deadlines Thursday Night

Harrisburg, (AP)—Pennsylvania motorists were warned yesterday that they must obtain 1952 operators' licenses by the Thursday midnight deadline.

The State Revenue department said some 700,000 persons have not yet applied for their new licenses.

So far, the department said it has mailed out drivers' licenses to 3,253,248 motorists.

The department also reminded that Thursday midnight is the deadline for obtaining new inspection stickers for the November-January inspection period.

State Demos Want Truman To Run Again

Harrisburg (AP)—Pennsylvania Democrats want President Truman to run for another term.

The Democratic State committee shouted its approval Saturday of a resolution urging the President to seek the Democratic nomination.

"We believe that the national prosperity we now enjoy and the fact that we have thus far avoided the calamity of a third world war are directly traceable to the far-sighted and wise policies of his administration," said the resolution.

The 113-member committee pledged Mr. Truman "our unwavering and enthusiastic support," but did not commit the delegates to Mr. Truman.

If the President should seek reelection, the resolution dealt a blow to any hope that Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) could enlist extensive support in Pennsylvania for his presidential aspirations.

The State committee also elected 20 delegates-at-large and 20 alternates to the Democratic national convention at Chicago next July 21.

Committee rules were revised in conference with a 1951 law to permit the election of the delegates-at-large each of whom will be entitled to a half vote at the national convention.

Among the delegates at large elected were U. S. Rep. Francis E. Walter, Easton; Edward J. Lynett Jr., Scranton; Mrs. Helen D. Dutton, Easton.

Army Says Dixon Prisoner Of War

Washington (AP)—The army took Pvt. Walter B. Dixon off its killed in action list yesterday. It advised his wife, who married another man on the basis of that listing, that he is a prisoner.

The wife, 22-year-old Mrs. Agnes Dixon of Atlanta, Ga., already has begun legal action to annul her second marriage. She acted the list of war prisoners released after Dixon's name appeared in just before Christmas by the Communists. When the list was issued, the Army said it still listed Dixon as officially dead.

The second husband, William S. Sasser, whom she married last September, has agreed to abide by the decision of the Fulton county, Ga., court in the annulment case. A hearing has been set for today.

Study Of Truck Weights Asked

Harrisburg (AP)—The Joint State Government commission has a request from Gov. John S. Fine for a detailed study of the problem of truck weight limits in Pennsylvania.

Fine vetoed legislation last Monday that would have increased the weight limits. He said insufficient data was at hand to judge whether truck firms are paying their full share of highway expenses.

The commission is the research arm of the General Assembly. Its recommendations often are enacted into law.

Allied Patrol Jabs At Reds

Seoul, Korea, Monday (AP)—An Allied tank-infantry patrol jabbed at the Chinese Reds on the wintry central Korean front yesterday and then withdrew after a three-hour battle at hand grenade range.

The action, southeast of Kumsong, was the heaviest along the bitterly cold, 145-mile front.

Flood Forces Many Persons To Flee Homes

(By The Associated Press) Flood waters rolled down the Ohio river yesterday driving some 2,600 persons in Ohio and West Virginia from their homes.

At least four persons were reported dead or missing. Ohio's adjutant general alerted National Guard units to stand by on an emergency basis as trucks and rowboats carried hundreds of persons to safety. The river rose toward a predicted crest of 12 feet over flood stage.

Trucks and rowboats carried hundreds to safety as the rampaging river swelled towards a predicted crest of 12 feet over flood stage.

About 900 residents of New Cumberland, W. Va., were evacuated about midday, and about the same number were taken from their homes in the villages of Empire and Stratton, O.

The flood was expected to roll through Marietta and Pomeroy, O., and Wheeling, W. Va., by Tuesday night, and emergency plans were set up in those towns.

Pelting rains brought flood conditions yesterday to scattered Pennsylvania cities and towns. Weather forecasters said colder temperatures and the end of the heavy rains will nip the floods before they get serious.

The Allegheny river watershed was the heaviest hit. In Pittsburgh, the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers were expected to crest at about 30 feet, five feet above flood stage. That much water is enough to cover low-lying areas and flood home and factory basements near the rivers. But it is not enough to cause widespread damage.

The heavy rains which deluged the steel city left a trail of slides, rockfalls and clogged sewers. Floodwaters caused considerable damage in Butler and at Sharon.

An expected flood at Clearfield in central Pennsylvania did not develop.

The West branch of the Susquehanna river threatened for a while to leap out of its banks and cause widespread damage.

But the river crested early yesterday morning at 9.7 feet. The flood stage is 10 feet. The river also seemed to be reaching its crest downstream.

Driver Cited After Fatality

Milford — State police here yesterday said they would cite LeRoy Fisher, 25, Port Jervis, for a departmental hearing to show cause why his operator's license should not be suspended.

Police said Fisher was driver of a car in which Joseph Wohlschud, 26, Matamoras, was injured fatally a week ago. The accident occurred on Route 6, just south of Matamoras when the auto hit an icy patch and crashed into a tree.

Fisher, Wohlschud and another passenger, Thomas Gilson, Port Jervis, were all hospitalized in Port Jervis. Wohlschud died of his injuries Thursday.

Philadelphia Dock Tieup Ends Today

Philadelphia, (AP)—A four-day tieup of Philadelphia docks was ended yesterday as Federal and State mediators brought agreement between AFL Longshoremen and the Philadelphia Marine Trade association.

Stevedores were scheduled to return to their jobs today at 8 a. m. The settlement will unshackle thousands of tons of cargo, including Army shipments lying in ship holds from Trenton, N. J., to Wilmington, Del.

Mal Gen. Frank E. Lowe, retired, formerly President Truman's personal representative in Korea, said he had a "suspicion" that not all messages he relayed to the White House from Korea reached Truman. Lowe made the comment when questioned about a published story that he feels Gen. Douglas MacArthur might never have been dismissed by the President if the Chief Executive had known all the facts of the Far Eastern situation.

Hoover Pleads For Greater Air-Sea Arms

New York (AP)—Herbert Hoover revived the "great debate" yesterday and counseled America—as he did a year ago—to build air and sea power to defend the Western hemisphere.

The 77-year-old former president's recommendation, which closely paralleled that of his earlier major foreign policy speech, was made in an address before a nation-wide radio and television audience.

"The first purpose of this republic," he said, as he had declared previously, "must be the defense of this final Gibraltar of freedom—that is the Western hemisphere."

After reviewing developments since Dec. 20, 1950, his last speech—Hoover again expressed alarm at the "dangerous overstraining of our economy by our gigantic expenditures."

One way to reduce expenditures, he said, is to reduce our ground armies to a minimum, while concentrating on "highly mobile" air and sea forces for defense.

Western Europe, Hoover said, however, must be told "in no uncertain terms" that it must provide its own ground armies—that an air and sea shield, plus munitions, are all the United States can safely afford to give it.

Fountain Of Youth Flapper Succumbs

New York (AP)—Actress Fannie Ward, the "fountain of youth" girl who reached old age still looking like a flapper, died yesterday. She was at least 79.

Time ran out on the "eternal soubrette" at 6 a. m. at Lenox Hill hospital, where she had been in a coma since last Monday. Doctors said she suffered a stroke.

The fabulous flapper, who made a glamorous career of seeking the fountain of youth, admitted to being 79 years old. But a close friend said she was 83.

Her efforts to stay young made her an international celebrity for more than half a century.

Policy Of Ousting British Unchanged Under New Leader

Cairo, Egypt, Monday (AP)—King Farouk last night suddenly dismissed the Egyptian government which had brought his people's anti-British sentiment to a pitch of frenzy and then was unable to protect the capitol from rioting, looting and destroying mobs.

The official Egyptian broadcasting service announced early today that the King had ousted Premier Mustapha Nahas Pasha and all his Wafdist party Cabinet.

It said he had installed Aly Maher Pasha, an independent and veteran of 30 years in Egyptian politics, as the new premier and given him the jobs of foreign minister and minister of the Army and Navy.

Shortly afterward the new premier addressed the nation by radio. He said his policy would be the "fulfillment of the evacuation (of British troops) and unity of the Nile valley (including the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan) under the Egyptian crown. This is the main goal of all the nation. There is another mission facing us beside this main goal. This is the maintenance of stability, security and peace and the imminent work to regain the confidence of all Egyptians and the rest of the population."

The new premier also will be Egypt's military governor with dictatorial powers while the emergency exists.

Farouk's letter of dismissal to Nahas Pasha made public today said he was forced to oust the premier because Saturday's riots "indicated the government over which you preside has not been able to preserve peace and security."

This sudden turn in Egypt's erupting political life came while Cairo, under the clamp of martial law, its streets deserted, its citizens confined to their homes after nightfall by a rigid curfew, still totaled the deaths and damage from Saturday's unprecedented outburst of violence.

The premier designate, Maher Pasha, was premier early in World War Two, but was interned later after a member of British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's government accused him of talking with the Italian enemy.

Political sources said, when appointment of Maher Pasha first was rumored last night, that he would form a coalition Cabinet in cooperation with the leaders of the four parties which had opposed Nahas Pasha and the Wafdist. However, it later was learned authoritatively that the opposition leaders would not be included in the new government and that the Cabinet would be "independent."

General quiet prevailed yesterday throughout central Cairo and most of Egypt in the wake of Saturday's violence when howling mobs put the torch to some of the main centers associated with foreign residents of the capital.

A British spokesman reported that all was quiet yesterday in the Suez canal zone.

In Cairo, only occasional gunfire broke the quiet. The curfew extended to the suburbs. In Zamalik, an island in the Nile where most of the foreigners live, the streets were empty. Elsewhere in the city, pedestrians and automobiles had cleared the streets as dusk approached. Only armored cars and armored trucks moved in the capital, while Army troops remained at their posts at street intersections and other strategic points.

Fuad Serag El Din Pasha, interior minister in Nahas Pasha's Cabinet, told newsmen that 300 persons had been arrested as responsible for Saturday's events. He said the police were still rounding up the ringleaders and others suspected of having fomented the disturbances.

Ahmed Hussein, an admirer of Hitler and Mussolini and leader of the prewar green shirts, was among those under arrest. He was charged with "top responsibility" for the mob action.

Police estimated yesterday that about 20 persons had been killed and 80 wounded in the all-day mob violence, but no accurate figures were yet available. The British listed their dead, wounded and missing as 15.

Nahas Pasha's Cabinet held a three-hour emergency session yesterday but Serag El Din said the meeting was devoted entirely to measures for bringing the situation under control. Newspaper predictions that the Cabinet would approve finally a diplomatic break with Britain did not materialize.

Martial law, decreed Saturday, prevailed throughout Egypt. Under it, the premier is military governor of the country with power to enforce legislation without having to seek parliamentary approval.

Careful Motorists Give Close Attention To Proper Wheel Alignment Of Car

Motorists should always give careful attention to the proper wheel alignment and wheel balancing of their car. This inexpensive service now helps greatly to eliminate excess tire wear and in 9 out of 10 cases helps prevent blowouts. To be sure that your car is in proper alignment and that the wheels are in proper balance we suggest that you stop in and see R. D. Coss, your Bear Alignment serviceman located at Bartonville, just above the intersection on the trail.

Mr. Coss who has years of experience in this field has the latest and finest equipment on the market today to insure proper adjustment and correction to wheel and frames are a few timely thoughts that Mr. Coss has to say to the motorist of Monroe county.

Wheel balancing service as a means of stopping wasteful tire wear and putting an end to vibrations which tend to shorten the life of your car is recommended by all automotive manufacturers, all tire companies, all oil concerns and public safety officials.

If your car is hard to handle — if you feel shock, shimmy or jiggle — watch out! Two things are happening:

One—Good rubber is being scraped off your tires 50% to 100% faster than normal with corresponding excess wear on the steering and front end parts.

Two—You are inviting accidents and taking unnecessary risks with your own life and the lives of all who ride with you.

Don't be a tire waster and tempt fate besides. Bear dynamic wheel balancer will absolutely stop wasteful tire wear and end costly repair bills. This machine employs a new and revolutionary principle that tests both static and dynamic wheel balance.

Your tires are valuable. You can't afford to neglect any service that will give you the greatest possible mileage from them.

See the Bear balancer in operation—watch the uncanny way it detects dangerous wheel conditions and see how smoothly the wheel whirls after corrections are made. You'll know then why you increase tire mileage, prevent expensive repairs, and have easier safer car handling after Bear dynamic service.

Wheel balancing has become more important than ever due to the widespread use of recaps and retreads. Where the average truck tire was from six to 12 ounces out of balance, recaps and retreads may run from 20 to 30.

A little unbalance at 10 mph. would not be noticed. In going twice as fast, 20 mph., the unbalance weight has an effect that is not twice as much but four times as much. At 30 it is nine times, at 40 it is 16 times as much.

That is the reason that just a few ounces of unbalance at the tread will develop a 10 to 12-

Death Claims C. A. Tallada, Polio Victim

Charles A. Tallada, 27, rear of 1022 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, who was stricken with polio last September, died Friday at Veterans hospital, Wilkes-Barre.

The World War Two veteran leaves his wife, Daisy and six children, aged six months to eight years. Also living with Mrs. Tallada and the children in the tiny three-room residence is Tallada's father, Miles.

Tallada had complained of being ill much of last summer, but it was not until September that he sought medical care. At that time physicians diagnosed the case as polio.

Tallada was taken to St. Luke's hospital in Bethlehem, where he was put in an iron lung.

The Monroe county branch of the National Infantile Paralysis foundation paid expenses in the case amounting to about $2,000.

Tallada was later transferred to the Veterans hospital.

Services will be 2 p. m. Tuesday at Gantzhorn funeral home, Tannersville, with Rev. Walter Johnston, pastor of Stroudsburg Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be at Stroudsburg cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. today. The Monroe County Joint Memorial committee will hold graveside rites.

Surviving, in addition to his wife and father, are the six children, William, Duane, Terry, Sylvia, Sherry and Sandra; his mother, Mrs. Lewis Miller, Marshall Creek; brothers Arch and Spencer, of Tannersville, and Eldridge, of Meshoppen, Pa.; a half-brother, George Smith, of Texas; and half-sister, Vivian Smith, of Sayre, N. Y.

Frank Singer Hurt In Fall On Sidewalk

Frank Singer, 42, of 914 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, was hospitalized yesterday after injuring himself in a fall on the sidewalk in front of 332 N. Ninth St., according to borough police.

A resident who saw the fall called police. Officer William Dwyer arrived to assist Singer, telephoned for an ambulance to take the unconscious man to the General hospital about 8:30 a. m. He was under treatment for cuts over the left eye and on the face.

325 Attend VFW Event

Approximately 325 members—old and new—crowded into the Veterans of Foreign Wars post home building yesterday between 2 and 7 p. m. for a hot dinner, entertainment and music.

The affair—for "A members only"—fell this year during the National VFW week being commemorated in posts throughout the entire country.

Of the 325 persons present at yesterday's celebration, 40 were either new or re-instated members, according to Franklin Weller Jr., post president. The VFW Post home now has a membership of 735, Weller said.

Bernie Whitman and his orchestra provided music for the affair. In addition to the dinner, refreshments were served.

Russell Hoffman, Fred Hoffman and Franklin J. Weller, were members of the general committee.

In charge of preparations were William Gurney, Forrest Haney, Tom Shiffer, Bernie Whitman, Donald Chase, John Sharbaugh, John Darr, Franklin Clifton, Charles Y. Nevil and Clay Forker.

proposal, while the Duff lieutenant in the legislature, with some exceptions, fought the administration's tax.

Some signs of reconciliation between Duff and Fine have been evident around Harrisburg lately, observers point out, and in the background of this development, they say, is M. Harvey Taylor, that astute "Old Harve" who is GOP State chairman.

Like everybody else in the game, Taylor wants to be with "the winner" for reasons aforementioned and because no one will argue against the fact the state chairmanship hangs in the balance. Delegate Kressler's role at the Hershey meetings staged by Big Red Duff in behalf of John S. Fine were important enough, according to "the boys", to cast him in the role of a better-than-middling candidate for the State GOP chairmanship. And, that's another bit of booty which will be cast out in the struggle for delegates and by whomever shoos home the winner.

The astute Mr. Taylor, meanwhile, is reported leaning strongly toward Eisenhower. But, and again from "the boys who ought to know"—"Old Harve", when the chips are down, will follow Governor Fine, be it Ike or Taft.

All persons are competent to make a will except idiots, persons of unbalanced mind and infants.

Miss Werkheiser Receives Twenty-Year Service Award

Miss Alberta Werkheiser of Fifth St., Stroudsburg, was presented with a badge denoting 20 years of faithful service as a local officer of the Salvation Army.

Miss Werkheiser served the local Salvation Army both as corps treasurer, and Young People's Legion secretary. She has been the cosigner of all checks paid out by the Salvation Army and has had the responsibility with the officers to see that all monies were spent wisely.

Sr. Maj. Nina Russell, of the New York Training College, made the presentation in the Sunday evening service after Senior Major May Adam spoke of the faithfulness of Miss Werkheiser in carrying out her duties.

Major Russell spoke to the Junior Soldiers of the Salvation Army in a special meeting on Saturday, and in all the services at the Citadel on Sunday.

80 Per Cent Subscribed To Barrett Fund

Cresco—Participating agencies in the Barrett Township Welfare fund will receive 80 per cent of the amounts requested for the coming year, according to an announcement made last week by the executive committee of the fund.

The decision was made at a meeting of the committee following a report that 80 per cent of the drive had been reached.

Members of the executive committee attending the meeting at Barrett school were Mrs. Andrew Lewis, president; Harry Drennan, vice president; Mrs. Jean Hulbert, secretary and Lewis Lewis, treasurer.

Asher Abel served as chairman in announcing the resignation of Daniel Miller Sr., president of the Bangor branch for the past 12 years.

Other officers elected were J. F. Shanahan, vice-president; Gloria Sword, secretary; and Abel, reelected as treasurer.

New board members include Mrs. Harry Stoddard, Mrs. Charles Steinmetz, Olive Blake, Sherwood Evans, George Remagne, and Mrs. George Parry.

In forming the board, four additional members will be sought from North Bangor, Ficksville, Ackermanville and Richmond.

Pelfly announced the 1952 drive quota as $2,560. It will begin March 1.

Bridegroom Escapes Injury In Plunge Off 5th St. Bridge

A bridegroom of two weeks escaped injury early yesterday when he plunged off Fifth St. bridge in Stroudsburg and landed on the rocks below.

He was Clinton Kern, Nazareth RD1, member of the U. S. Air Force stationed at Andrews Air Force base, Washington, D. C.

Kern and his wife, Jean, spent part of Saturday night at the VFW home, 1 Veterans Pl., Stroudsburg, and had been arguing, according to Russell Hoffman, VFW manager.

The couple left at 2:30 a. m. yesterday on foot, Hoffman said.

The home closes up shortly before 3 a. m. About 3 a. m. one of the veterans leaving the home saw Mrs. Kern on the nearby bridge and the uniformed soldier down below, Hoffman said.

The VFW manager said Kern got back up to street level by himself. Another late leaver from the home, called police.

Just before borough officers arrived, the airman was put in a motorist's car. He was driven to the General hospital and kept under observation. Just before noon yesterday he was discharged. Hospital authorities said he had suffered no injuries.

The investigation by borough police disclosed that another man who had left the home at the same time as the couple tried to restrain Kern from climbing the fence railing. The attempt failed, the police said, and Kern landed on a rocky ledge that parallels the creek bed.

Patrolman Jack Tretheway said that under questioning, Kern claimed he had gone over the bridge to retrieve a lost hat.

Mrs. Kern is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Stroudsburg, of 271 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg.

Assistant Police Chief Stanley Fetherman said borough police are continuing the investigation.

Newly Elected Assessor Dies

Bangor—John Jay Morris, 65, newly-elected Fourth ward assessor here and a slater by trade, died Saturday in Allentown.

Born in Slatington, he was a member of a number of Masonic orders and First United Evangelical church here. Services will be 2 p. m. tomorrow at Stoddard funeral home here. Burial will be at St. John's cemetery, Bangor.

Realty Tax Issue Not Yet Settled

The matter of who will sell the State's new one per cent real estate transfer tax stamps in Monroe county remained unsettled yesterday.

Register and Recorder Floyd Butz turned down the job, as did five other county recorders. The Revenue department then designated County Treasurer P. A. Rockefeller to replace Butz as agent.

The treasurer said yesterday he would not make up his mind on accepting the appointment until he confers today with his solicitor, Arlington W. Williams.

The new tax stamps must be affixed to all deeds recorded on and after Feb. 1.

Cutler Funeral Rites Planned

Requiem mass for Joseph Cutler, 56, Pocono Summit, who died Friday, will be held at 10 a. m. today at St. Joan of Arc Catholic church, Pocono Summit.

Officiating will be Rev. John Ferguson, who said rosary last night at Gantzhorn funeral home, Tannersville. Burial will be at Drovers Home cemetery, Mount Pocono.

Surviving is a step-daughter, Mrs. Harry Winn, of Duryea, Pa.

Governor Fine's Vetoes

But for Gov. John S. Fine, we would have had the old-time saloon back in Pennsylvania, doing a hell-roaring business, selling liquor by the bottle and making no pretense of selling food, as "restaurant" licenses are supposed to do.

The Governor wisely vetoed three bills that would have wiped out much of the State's power to cope with the liquor trade.

One bill would have permitted licensees to sell liquor by the bottle after State Stores close at 9 p. m. Another would have eliminated the requirement that "restaurants" licensed to sell liquor also serve food.

A third bill would have given local courts wide powers to overrule the Liquor Control Board in enforcement cases and compel the acceptance of $10 a day fines instead of license suspensions.

Mr. Fine observed that the bottle sales bill would "augment juvenile delinquency and increase highway hazards and accidents." The court appeals bill would "deteriorate" the liquor control system, he said.

As for the requirement that "restaurants" sell food, Mr. Fine conceded that this method of preventing the return of the saloon seems to have failed of its purpose. And with that judgment, there can be little dispute.

That Pennsylvania has been spared these three assaults on its already-leaky liquor control system is due entirely to the Governor. No thanks to the Legislature, which approved all three.

And no thanks to the cynical "dry" lobby in Harrisburg which agreed not to oppose the three bills if the Legislature approved a package of other liquor bills favored by the drys.

This is the lobby that should have worked to protect the public at every stage of the legislative process. But it was willing to run the risk of enactment of vicious legislation in order to gain its own aims, depending on the Governor to save the state in the end.

The Origin Of Symbols

As time rolls inexorably on and the major political conventions loom nearer and nearer, we shall doubtless see many cartoons in which the elephant and the donkey portray the Republican and the Democratic parties, respectively.

No doubt you erudite readers are fully informed on the origin of these symbols, but since there is reasonable doubt that there may be a few present who have not been informed, perhaps this is the time to explain the matter before the Republicans get around to proving that the mink should be the Democratic symbol instead of the donkey.

In fact, some of the GOP brothers have been so unkind as to suggest that the 1952 slogan for their party ought to be "Let's drive the minks and pinks out of Washington."

But we are writing today of symbols rather than slogans. It was Thomas Nast, the most influential and certainly the most popular cartoonist in the second half of the 19th century, who was responsible for the elephant and the donkey as representing the two major political parties. And it was Nast, incidentally, who in 1870 began using the tiger as representing Tammany Hall, in his cartoons for Harper's Weekly.

One other political symbol is remembered in the political world, and that is the bull moose as selected by Theodore Roosevelt's Progressive Party of 1912, when he broke with Taft in the presidential campaign of that year. Henry Wallace's third party of 1918 had no pictorial symbol.

Sokolsky

The office of President has changed so radically that a generation has grown up which seems to have lost altogether the sense of a division of our government into three independent branches, with checks and balances, as carefully provided in the Constitution.

This is startlingly interesting because it shows how swiftly the attitude of a nation can change. When Mr. Roosevelt demanded "blank check" appropriations from Congress, and got them, he weakened one of the most important Congressional functions, namely, control of the money of the nation. Mr. Roosevelt made the budget, and Congress blindly approved on the theory that there was a more or less constant emergency. Two wars and a depression have left their impression upon the upcoming generations who have not been grounded in the history, nature and purport of our constitutional system.

The Presidency has come to have an exaggerated significance in the minds of many Americans combining the functions of an elected prime minister and an hereditary king. The assumption seems to be that the President "leads" the nation, although the leadership principle was so repugnant to the founders of this country that the Constitution set up checks upon his authority, many of which can have no other explanation than an unwillingness to extend to any man vast and unrestrained powers.

Most Presidents have accepted constitutional restraints as the rule of the road; a few, like Andrew Jackson and perhaps Abraham Lincoln, found the restraints difficult in the circumstances of their times. Franklin D. Roosevelt's temperament was such that he brooked little interference, and his political ingenuity was such that he evolved procedures to subordinate both Congress and the courts to his will.

However, he never altogether succeeded. Harry Truman has none of Roosevelt's astuteness nor does he command equal respect, with the result that he has been in a constant quarrel with Congress, including the members of his own party.

Nevertheless, the power and authority of the Presidency have grown. If the respect for the incumbent is not exalted, at any rate, it is assumed that his office gives him an authority which often is not his at all, but rightly belongs to Congress or the judiciary.

The most glaring example of Mr. Truman's extra-constitutional activity is, of course, the frightful and costly Korean War. A study of the time-table of the first 48 hours of our participation in that situation will show that the United States initiated the action taken and that therefore the United Nations "police action" was an afterthought.

This is only important because according to the Constitution, Congress alone is authorized to decide whether the United States goes to war or not. Congress, in the Truman pattern, gives its approval by voting funds. Nothing in the Constitution authorizes this devious procedure.

We may become involved in wars in Burma, Malaya, French Indo-China, Iran and Turkey in the near future without an act of Congress despite the Constitution.

Similarly, at Teheran and Yalta, decisions were taken of the broadest historic import, altering the map of the world, rearranging the nationalities of millions of human beings, placing upon the American people huge obligations and liabilities; yet none of it was done by normal Constitutional methods. No treaties were prepared which were duly ratified by the Senate, as is provided for in the Constitution.

All this was taken in the Presidential stride, with little protest by the people who had grown accustomed to a less restrained Presidency, which could, in time, become an unrestrained Presidency.

Another example of the floating of Congress was the appointment of Dr. Philip Jessup to the important position on the American delegation to the United Nations General Assembly session in Paris after the Senate had rejected him for the post. A technicality made a recess appointment possible, but the intent of the senatorial action was so clear that a restrained President would not have employed it.

The American people can have any kind of government they choose and the Constitution provides means for alterations, even to the extent of abolishing the Constitution itself. The processes are orderly; to accomplish such changes by subterfuge is revolutionary and confusing. Much is being accomplished these days by propaganda that should be done by legislation. The peril is that propaganda may prevail and the legislature become a rump.

Perhaps one issue in the present campaign might be the Constitution itself, and the role of the Presidency in the American system.

Between Japan and Korea the sea is so shallow that a very slight upheaval of the bottom would permit an army to walk across dryshod.

Thomas Nast, the cartoonist, created the symbols of the donkey and the elephant for the Democratic and Republican parties.

Mrs. William Arthur Ueberroth

Miss Nancy L. Metzgar Bride Of Cpl. William A. Ueberroth

Miss Nancy Lou Metzgar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Metzgar, of 101 Walnut St., East Stroudsburg, became the bride of Cpl. William Arthur Ueberroth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Ueberroth of 1211 Center St., Bethlehem, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday before the candle-lit altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg, Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace church pastor, officiated at the formal double ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Earl Metzgar, was attired in a white ballroom gown with a long train. Her fingertip veil was set in a tiara of orange blossoms. Her long sleeves were pointed over the wrists. Her white orchid corsage was set in streamers intertwined with tiny silk bows.

Mrs. Adele M. Marsh, who was matron-of-honor, wore a rose gown of Chantilly lace with matching bolero jacket and she carried a hand bouquet of pink roses.

Roy W. Ueberroth, father of the bridegroom, was best man. Carl A. Metzgar, brother of the bride, and Frank Horwath, of Bethlehem, were ushers.

Michael F. Hannon, tenor, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" prior to the wedding. During the wedding prayers as the bride and groom were kneeling on the white satin covered pillow before the altar graced with bouquets of white snapdragons, he sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte, Miss Leila Bunnell presided at the organ console with a medley of nuptial melodies before the wedding. Thomas I. Kintner was acolyte.

The mothers of the bride and groom were seated in Navy blue crepe street length dresses, with white accessories and each wore an orchid corsage.

Following the wedding a reception for 75 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. A tiered wedding cake surmounted by a miniature bride and bridegroom featured the colorful refreshments.

The bride was graduated from the East Stroudsburg High school with the class of 1950 and is employed at the Art Metal Company. The bridegroom served for four years in the U. S. Navy during World War II in the Pacific area. At present he is on 30-day leave from Indiantown Gap Military Reservation waiting for reassignment having just returned from 15 months' service in the U. S. Army in Korea. He was graduated from Moravian Preparatory School in Bethlehem with the class of 1947.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in New York City. The bride will reside temporarily with her parents until her husband is stationed when she will join him.

Peggy Heckman, 7 Years Of Age, Honored At Party

Peggy Ann Heckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Heckman, of 365 Lincoln Ave., East Stroudsburg, was honored at a party at her home on Saturday when she celebrated her seventh birthday.

Games were played and refreshments were served. Peggy Ann received many gifts and a decorated cake from her aunt Millie, of Sunbury.

Those in attendance were: Diane Lyon, Linda Vogt, Betty Ann Newman, Sharon Pugh, Garry Gilliland, Doris Transue, Bertha Helman, Donna and Arlene Cramer.

Others who sent gifts but were unable to attend were Marlene and Buddy Bush, Kenneth Sip-troth, Ronnie, Dougie and Phyllis Jenkins.

Albrecht-Peters Nuptials Held At Bushkill Church

The Dutch Reformed church at Bushkill was banked with evergreens and filled with friends for the wedding of Miss Mildred Jane Peters, daughter of Mrs. Charles Edwin Peters, of Stroudsburg and Bushkill, to Henry Nelson Albrecht, son of Mrs. Edla Huffman, of Marshalls Creek, on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Stroudsburg, performed the double ring ceremony with evergreens, lighted by a row of tall white candles, forming the background for the wedding party. Mrs. Russell Eshback was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Earl Clark, wore a dress of lime iridescent taffeta with a low oval neckline, and a full skirt over crinolines. She wore matching lime satin slippers. Her hair of yellow flowers was spangled with brilliants and her colonial bouquet of yellow roses was rimmed with acanthus.

Her sister, Mrs. William Pipher, as matron of honor wore mauve pink taffeta with purple velvet trim, and a silver and gold corsage. Her colonial bouquet of pink roses, was ringed with sprays of heather.

Richard MacDonald was best man, with John Bachman, William Pipher, Theodore Hoffman and Alton (Bucky) Jones serving as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dark gray silk standing with a hat of winter white felt and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue ensemble with a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for about 130 guests at MacNampara's Gap View Inn, Foxtown Hill. The bride's table was decorated with candles, and a centerpiece of white snapdragons, gladioli and ferns. A four-tier wedding cake was cut by the bride and bridegroom and

Geo. Pitsilos, Irene Poulos Are Wedded

George Pitsilos, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Pitsilos, of Bethlehem, former residents of Stroudsburg, and Miss Irene Poulos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Poulos, same city, exchanged marriage vows at Memorial chapel, Lehigh University, at 4:30 yesterday afternoon. A reception followed the ceremony at Hotel Bethlehem for a large number of guests.

The bridegroom's father while a resident of Stroudsburg conducted the Star restaurant in partnership with Milton Demetriou, now of North Bergen, N. J. He is engaged in the same business with brothers, Steve and Harry. The young man attended Stroudsburg schools and will be graduated from Lehigh University next month.

The bride was honored at several pre-nuptial parties when she received many gifts including a religious picture from her grandmother, Mrs. Irene Yalatak, who resides in Athens, Greece, which has been in the family many years and believed to be more than 100 years old.

Local people who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. William Livadas, Miss Lucy Clampl, Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Williams and a nephew, Nicholas Russo and daughter, Anna.

Speaks In New York

Miss Violet Clark, East Stroudsburg sculptor, on Tuesday was the featured speaker at a meeting of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences in the lecture hall of the Academy of Music. Her topic, "Masks Around the World," aroused great interest among the audience.

What could be nicer than receiving a red satin heart on Valentine's Day... or any day for that matter... inscribed "For My Treasure?" The inscription can be taken two ways as it is probably meant to be, for the heart is a plump pin cushion attached to the lid of a jewel box. What a gift for a man to buy HIS treasure for HER treasures.

I read telling you the price of these boxes, for when I do you'll think I've exaggerated their beauty. (Do come in and see for yourself!) They are just $1.98, and are especially nice since the linings match the outside coverings. They are roomy, have a sliding tray, and are well constructed. They do not, however, have the lock one finds on more expensive cases.

At the price, one can also afford a pretty pin or necklace to enclose... and why not? Edna Harmon has both lovely novelties and long-time favorites in the new assortment of spring jewels just arrived from the New York market. There are earrings, resembling tiny flower pots of metal, with diminutive enameled blossoms... bracelets of cultured pearls... sets of rose, jade, corneal and amethyst quartz set in gold, and tailored pieces such as silver horseshoe clips. None of them are "precious" gems... but YOUR giving them to her will make them so!

But back to the jewel cases. If the lady of your choice collects earrings, Marion Leedom suggests an earring box made of Texol with contrasting lining of satin and velvet. This is $2.50. A fair exchange for this would be a masculine accessories box in brown or tan that sells at $1.95.

At $4.95 there is an all-purpose jewel box that holds a smaller box which can be used alone when traveling or as an extra gem tray at home. A similarly styled box of superior craftsmanship is $10.00. But while any of these would set a woman's heart to singing, the finest of all has its own music box in a choice of two ever-popular melodies. Either will tell her that you love her "Always" and that every date with her is "Some Enchanted Evening."

Miss Carlton Is Dessert Bridge Hostess To Club

Canadensis — Miss Barbara Carlton entertained the members of the bridge club at a dessert bridge at her home Thursday night. Refreshments were served during the social period.

The guests were: Mrs. Joe Snow, Mrs. Harold Gravel, Mrs. Conrad Serfass, Mrs. Harold Kreeb, Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, Mrs. Milton Carlton, Mrs. Bette McCambridge and the hostess, Miss Carlton.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

I read telling you the price of these boxes, for when I do you'll think I've exaggerated their beauty. (Do come in and see for yourself!) They are just $1.98, and are especially nice since the linings match the outside coverings. They are roomy, have a sliding tray, and are well constructed. They do not, however, have the lock one finds on more expensive cases.

At the price, one can also afford a pretty pin or necklace to enclose... and why not? Edna Harmon has both lovely novelties and long-time favorites in the new assortment of spring jewels just arrived from the New York market. There are earrings, resembling tiny flower pots of metal, with diminutive enameled blossoms... bracelets of cultured pearls... sets of rose, jade, corneal and amethyst quartz set in gold, and tailored pieces such as silver horseshoe clips. None of them are "precious" gems... but YOUR giving them to her will make them so!

But back to the jewel cases. If the lady of your choice collects earrings, Marion Leedom suggests an earring box made of Texol with contrasting lining of satin and velvet. This is $2.50. A fair exchange for this would be a masculine accessories box in brown or tan that sells at $1.95.

At $4.95 there is an all-purpose jewel box that holds a smaller box which can be used alone when traveling or as an extra gem tray at home. A similarly styled box of superior craftsmanship is $10.00. But while any of these would set a woman's heart to singing, the finest of all has its own music box in a choice of two ever-popular melodies. Either will tell her that you love her "Always" and that every date with her is "Some Enchanted Evening."

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College sent three athletic teams to war on Saturday and all three came back battered and torn, after suffering defeats, and decisive setbacks at that. There was much moaning and groaning among ESSTC's real sports following at Rosie's and other spots where students from the local State Teachers College gather. One or two setbacks is bad enough, but three is the kind of treatment that really hits home where it hurts.

The basketball team lost to Millersville, 60-42, but the invading gold clad leaders of the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference rushed in the subs in the second half or the damage might have been much worse. It would have been worse anyway, if "Chick" McGlade hadn't presented his top scoring spree in the past two years with nine points in the final quarter, as the Warriors came back with 19 markers in the home stretch after having been held to a field goal and a foul shot in the third round.

Cortland's swimming team proved too much for the water Warriors, but the charges of Coach Frank Grimm remained in the thick of the battle until the last two events, at which time the New Yorkers stepped out to their winning margin. Although Clarence Lephart took the measure of Jim Carousis last year, it was very evident that the Warriors missed their ace distance star on Saturday and will probably miss him for the remainder of the campaign.

ESSTC's wrestling club also went down to defeat, 31-3 at the hands of Wilkes College, on the latter's home mats. Likeable George Ockershausen, back at the wrestling helm after an absence of two years, saw his forces go down to the one-sided defeat with only a single favorable decision. The lone victory was turned in by Bob Knapp, a surprise starter in the 167-pound event. Bob more or less went along to gain experience, but instead gained a victory.

Speaking of Ockershausen brings to mind the fact that George will coach baseball in the spring, replacing Ed Shay, who in turn replaced Ray Welsh at basketball coach at the local college. The status of Dick Pritchard, as far as baseball is concerned, remains doubtful at ESSTC. Dick, a brilliant athlete throughout his collegiate career, has run into scholastic difficulty in his senior year. Howard "Howie" Peterbaugh has skipped this semester at the local college, but will wind up his education during the coming summer term. Peterbaugh and Pritchard were co-captains of the ESSTC grid machine last season.

Lyle Krall, infielder for ESSTC and Roseto, of the Blue Mountain League last season, recently had an ailing knee repaired by surgery. The knee, still encased in a cast, made many major league scouts leary of talking seriously with the hard hitting, smooth fielding inner defense man. It was the bad knee that kept Krall from going to his right, according to the ivory hunters. However, if the knee is completely cured by the recent operation, the scouts may once again take up Krall's trial, which in turn may lead to something really good.

Ellis "Jack" Diviney, a member of the ESSTC cage machine last year, is currently coaching at East Berlin (Pa.) High, with an enrollment of somewhere around 450, and has his basketball team in first place in the Adams County League. Diviney is the physical education director at East Berlin, in addition to coaching basketball, baseball and soccer. Diviney deserves every break in the books, for while a student at ESSTC he walked and ran to school from a trailer camp far out on W. Main St. This included late basketball practices also, although he did get rides during the night drills. The guy has the stuff needed to become a success in athletics.

Millersville's sixth Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference victory was a 44-42 affair over Lock Haven on Friday night. Reports making the rounds indicate that Millersville froze the ball for the last five and one-half minutes against the Bald Eagles. John Childs, a graduate of ESSTC, is coaching basketball, baseball and football at Athens (Pa.) High school and apparently doing a great job. Athens, in District Four, went through an undefeated football season last fall and up to Sunday, January 20, the varsity and junior varsity cage machines had accounted for nine wins each without a setback.

Al Godecke, who began the present campaign as a member of the ESSTC varsity cage machine, teamed with Bob Garrett to do a fine job of officiating in Saturday's junior varsity basketball game in the Normal Hill gym. Garrett announced the swimming meet in the afternoon. What has happened to the large crowds that have been attending basketball games at the local college in recent years???

Cortland Swimmers Triumph Over ESSTC

Cortland State Teachers, operating out of the Empire State, administered a 50-34 licking to East Stroudsburg State Teachers College on Saturday, in the first swimming meet of the season for the Warriors, who remained in the fight with the New Yorkers until the last two events. The meet was held in the Normal Hill pool.

The visiting contingent, paced by ace distance man Clarence Lephart, won six of the ten events on the agenda and put the meet on ice by winning both the 440-yard freestyle and the 400-yard freestyle relay, the ninth and tenth events on yesterday's program.

A capacity crowd watched the home team, under the guidance of Coach Frank Grimm, win the opening event, the 300-yard medley relay, the diving event, 200-yard back stroke and the 200-yard breast stroke.

Winners
The winning relay team for ESSTC was formed by Paul Kokolos, George Truesdale, Bob Conrad, Ray Mayrovitz won the diving event for the home team, while Kokolos paced the field in the back stroke, and Truesdale was first in the breast stroke.

ESSTC returns to the water wars next Saturday against West Chester, in the Rams' home pool. Summaries follow:

300 Medley Relay—East Stroudsburg (Paul Kokolos, George Truesdale, Bob Conrad), Cortland (Mike Twobig, Don Lammer, Stan Silver), 3:28.4.
200 Freestyle—Clarence Lephart, Cortland; Bill Braatz, Cortland; Gene Talco, East Stroudsburg, 2:21.7.
50 Freestyle—Howard Pivnick, Cortland; Tom Foley, East Stroudsburg; Bob Heffer, East Stroudsburg, 0:52.2.
150 Medley—Bob Beaudry, Cortland; Jack Quinlan, Cortland; Charley Rohland, East Stroudsburg, 1:35.1.
Diving—Ray Mayrovitz, East Stroudsburg; Jerry Campbell, East Stroudsburg; Joe Calvo, Cortland, 2:05.9.
100 Freestyle—Lephart, Cortland; Beaudry, Cortland; Conrad, East Stroudsburg, 0:56.9.
200 Backstroke—Kokolos, East Stroudsburg; C. Rohland, East Stroudsburg; Fred Johnson, Cortland, 2:45.
200 Breaststroke—Truesdale, East Stroudsburg; Lammer, Cortland; Quinlan, Cortland, 3:12.3.
440 Freestyle—Ken Rowland, Cortland; Braatz, Cortland; C. Rohland, East Stroudsburg, 5:38.7.
400 Freestyle Relay—Cortland Beaudry, Bob Jorgensen, Pivnick, Lephart, East Stroudsburg (Paul Pollack, Bob Ashner, Conrad, Foley), 4:00.5.

TTHS Host To Stroudsburg
Stroudsburg High school's junior varsity basketball machine and Stroudsburg Junior High have a cage date at Pocono Pines tonight, where the Mountaineers will tangle in a pair of games with Tobyhanna Township, the top team in the Monroe County League.

The opening game will feature the junior high contingent against TTTH's junior varsity, while Stroudsburg's junior varsity tangles with the TTTH varsity in the main event.

First Meeting
TTTH won in the first meeting of the two teams this season. The first game is listed for 7:15 and the main event for approximately one hour later.

Argentine Boxer Injured In Bout
San Francisco (AP) — The manager of Argentine heavyweight Rafael Iglesias said yesterday the boxer has had symptoms of a brain injury since he was knocked out in San Francisco Thursday night.

Doctors
Thomas Arevalo said he will take the 1948 Argentine Olympic champ to state boxing commission doctors for an examination. The commission could disqualify Iglesias for life from further professional fights.

Losers Cause
Jake Nittel was high in the match department for the East Stroudsburg contingent, with games of 181, 195 and 224, good for an even 600 pins. Jack Darr, with a 231 score, captured single honors in a losing cause.

Warriors Fall Before Wilkes In Opening Wrestling Match
Wilkes-Barre — East Stroudsburg State Teachers College launched its 1952 wrestling season in a losing fashion here on Saturday night, while suffering a 31-3 setback at the hands of Wilkes College, on the winning team's home mats.

Bob Knapp, a newcomer to the ESSTC grunt-and-groan contingent coached by George Ockershausen, accounted for all three of the red and black clad team's points, when he won a 9-0 decision over Bob Fay, Wilkes, in the 167-pound bout. Otherwise it was all Wilkes.

ESSTC was forced to open the match with a default in the 123-pound clash, as the Warriors were unable to present a man at this weight. Bob Reynolds, Wilkes, was awarded a 5-0 verdict.

Mangrum Wins Phoenix Open Golf Tourney

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP) — Lloyd Mangrum, golf's leading money winner last year, took his first 1952 victory here yesterday in the $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament.

Mangrum came in five strokes ahead of his nearest competitor as he bettered par for the fourth straight day.

His one-under 70 yesterday afternoon gave him a 274—clipping ten strokes from par for the 72-hole route.

Another links veteran took over the second spot as E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., fired yesterday's best round, a 67, for a 279 total.

Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., winner of last week's San Diego Open, captured third place with a 73 for 280.

Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C., who paced the field through the first two days, fell behind yesterday. Although it was first thought he had a one-over-par 72 for the final round, he was charged a penalty stroke, giving him a total of 281 for the tourney.

Deadlock

His 281 left him tied with Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., and Fred Hawkins, the young professional from El Paso, Tex. Middlecoff, the golfing dentist, had a 71 yesterday and Hawkins a 70.

Next came Jack Burke Jr., Houston, Tex., and Jim Ferrier, the Australian from San Francisco, each with 282. Burke had a 73 and Ferrier a 70 for the final round.

Pacing the amateurs was Frank Stranahan, the Walker Cupper and former British Amateur champion, from Toledo, Ohio. He had a 70, his first sub-par round of this meet and a 296 total. Next came Gray Madison of Phoenix with a 300 and Billy Erfurth of San Antonio, Tex., with a 302. Madison had 71 yesterday and Erfurth 75.

Ted Rhodes of Los Angeles, a Negro competing in the first PGA-sponsored tournament allowing Negro professionals to play, wound up with a 79 for a 302 total. Other Negro entries had failed to qualify for the final two rounds.

Mangrum started yesterday's round with a three-stroke lead over Kroll. He was shooting for his first winner's prize of $1,000 in this tourney played over the 6,578-yard Phoenix Country Club course.

Last year's winner, Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., whose 272 was the low score a year ago, finished out of the money yesterday with a 75 for 295.

Governor To Honor Seixas
Harrisburg (AP) — Vic Seixas, America's top-ranking amateur tennis star, will receive a plaque from Gov. John S. Fine here Wednesday night as "Pennsylvania's Athlete of the Year."

The award is sponsored by the Harrisburg Exchange Club and will be presented at the club's annual sports night.

Speakers
Principal speakers will be four college football coaches, Jim Tatum, Maryland, Charles "Rip" Engle, Penn State; Harry Lawrence, Bucknell, and Bob Redman of Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

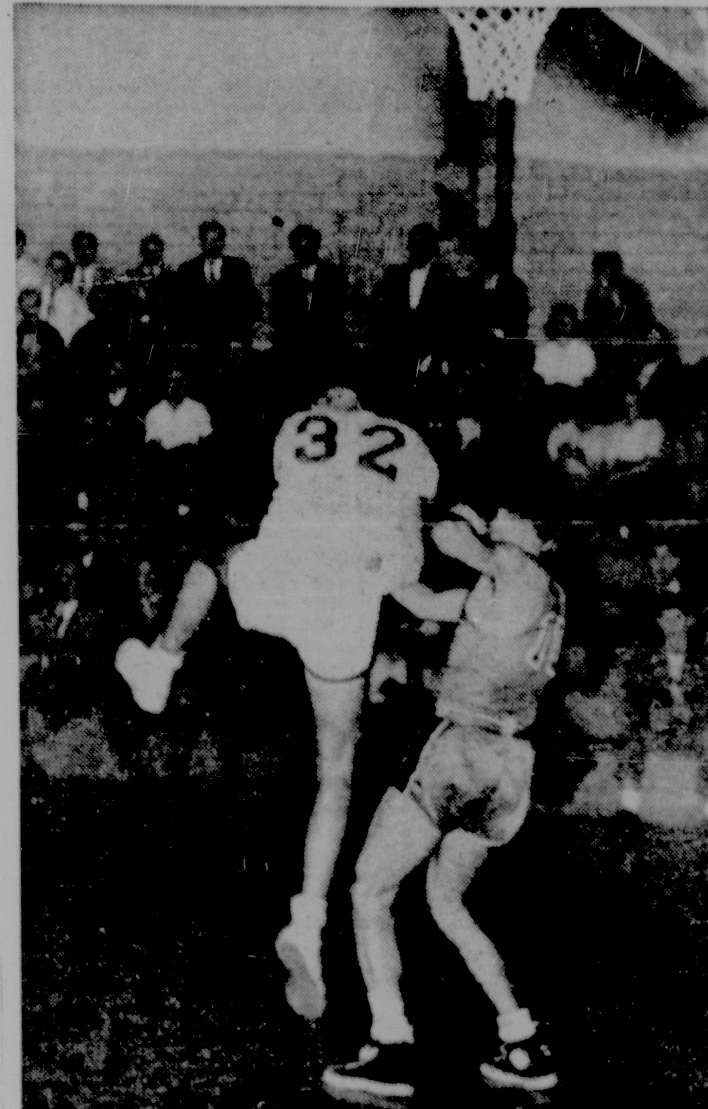

Mulloy Retires Two Trophies

West Palm Beach, Fla. (AP) — Gardnar Mulloy of Miami yesterday defeated his fellow townsman, Tony Vincent, in the final of the South Florida Tennis tournament to retire two trophies on which he previously had won two legs.

Scores
The veteran Davis Cup player trimmed the former University of Miami player 6-4, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, to win the South Florida Singles Championship trophy and the Duval Challenge cup.

Important Contest
Tobyhanna — Tannersville will attempt to gain a tie with Tobyhanna for first place in the Pocono Mountains League tonight, when the first and second place clubs clash here on the Coolbaugh High grounds. The game is scheduled to begin at 8:15.

Veteran Track Coaches Frown On Gehrmann's Mile Methods

Shaymen Collapse In Third Period

Millersville rolled to its seventh straight victory without a defeat in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference on Saturday night, with a comfortable 60-42 victory over East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, on the latter's home basketball court. The host team has a one-and-one circuit mark at the present time and owns two victories in seven outings against all opposition.

The Warriors apparently were destined to give the visiting conference leaders a run for their money, as Frank "Whitey" Whitecavage kept his mates in the battle during the opening round. The big center came up with six of his team's dozen counters, although Millersville held a 13-12 edge at the end of the opening round.

However, Ken Kline, former Allentown High star who plays some of his best basketball on the ESSTC hardwood, began to find the range in the second period and the Millersville powerhouse pulled away from the Warriors who elected to substitute early in the second round. The visiting contingent led at the halfway mark, 29-20, after enjoying a 16-8 edge in the scoring.

ESSTC really hit the rocks in the third stanza when the Warriors were held to three points, a field goal by Don Dinan and a foul conversion by Whitecavage late in the stanza, while the visiting gold clad engers piled up 15 tallies, to lead 44-23 entering the home stretch.

Hot Hand
"Chick" McGlade caught fire in the final round and led the Warriors to their best quarter of the game, against three Millersville subs and a pair of regulars. McGlade drove home nine of the 19 markers accounted for by the charges of Ed Shay, while Millersville put 16 more points on the scoreboard.

The closeness of the game in the early stages is reflected in the fact that the score was tied on three occasions in the first period, at 8-8, 10-10 and 12-12.

ESSTC made six of 13 goals from the foul line, while Millersville came through with 14 conversions in 21 attempts.

Illinois, Kansas Suffer Initial Defeats

New York (AP)—The jinx that has been haunting the top ranking team in the weekly Associated Press poll of the nation's best college basketball teams all season was working overtime Saturday night.

The hex not only struck down Illinois, voted number one team in the latest poll, but also made Kansas, which narrowly escaped defeat during the Jayhawks' three weeks on top of the poll, a belated victim.

Illinois' big team failed to get the rebounds as they usually do and went down to a 69-65 defeat at the hands of DePaul, while Kansas ran out of gas in the second half and lost to Kansas State by a whopping 81-64 count.

The double defeat gave old man jinx a clean slate on the year—he's knocked off every team that reached the number one spot on the poll.

The upsets of Illinois and Kansas, which was number two in the poll, also cut the list of major college undefeated major colleges neatly in half, leaving only St. Bonaventure and Duquesne with spottless records. St. Bonaventure was in no danger of defeat, taking its twelfth straight of the year with a 76-50 victory over Youngstown. Duquesne did not play.

Battle

Kentucky had to battle literally—right down to the wire for a 71-67 victory over Alabama at Tuscaloosa, Ala. The Wildcats held third position in the poll.

St. Louis 48-40 win over Oklahoma A&M, put the Billikins number eight in the AP poll, on top of the Missouri Valley Conference.

Although not playing Saturday night, Duquesne faces the toughest part of the schedule in the next three days. The Dukes, trying to protect an 11-game winning streak and the number ten position in the poll, meet Villanova tonight, Baldwin-Wallace tomorrow night and play at Akron Wednesday night.

St. Bonaventure, fifth in the poll with 12 straight wins, is idle until meeting Loyola of Chicago at the Buffalo auditorium Saturday night.

Iowa, number four, didn't play Saturday night, while sixth-ranked Washington defeated Washington State, 67-43, and ninth-place West Virginia trampled on little Bethany, 69-42.

Comeback of the night was registered by Seton Hall, which was trailing Villanova by 62-52 and pulled out a 68-66 victory.

St. John's won a routine 54-44 victory over Temple after gaining an early lead.

Catasauqua, Bethlehem Capture First-Half Championships In Respective Court Circuits

Harrisburg (AP)—Four more first-half titles remain to be settled this week as most of Pennsylvania's basketball circuits prepare to start second-round activity.

Six of the leagues operating on a split-season basis settled first-half honors Friday night but the outcome of the Mountain, Lackawanna, Susquehanna and Wyoming Valley loops still is in doubt.

Major upset of the weekend was Tyrone's 38-37 upset of unbeaten Hollidaysburg to throw the first round into a playoff between the same two teams tomorrow night.

Danville and Sunbury, each with a 8-1 record in the Susquehanna League must defeat Milton and Selinsgrove, respectively, tonight to qualify for a Friday playoff. Both leaders play on foreign floors.

Newport Twp. and Nanticoke each have only one loss in the Wyoming Valley League going into their game tonight at Hanover. Unbeaten Old Forge must beat Scranton Tech tomorrow and runner-up Taylor away Friday in the Lackawanna League first half wind-up.

Bethlehem, beaten only once all season, snared the first part of the East Penn Conference title by handing Allentown Catholic its first defeat by a 62-55 score. The league also saw Allentown's defending state champions lose their fourth game in 11 starts—a 50-49 victory for Easton.

Initial Leg

Pottsville, winner of 14 out of 15 games so far, took the first leg on the Ches-Mont League title it won last year by downing Coatesville, 63-58. Mahanoy City won Black Diamond League honors by defeating once-beaten Nesquehoning, 54-39.

Catasauqua downed Whitehall, 68-55, for half of the Lehigh Valley League flag while once-beaten Chambersburg, District three champion, knocked off Hanover to wrap up first round honors in the South Penn loop. Coal Twp. earlier had clinched the Keystone League flag.

Farrell, favored to repeat as western champion, ran its victory string to 15 straight this season by downing Sharon, 61-48, in Section three of the WPAL. Ambridge's 51-46 upset of once-beaten Alliquippa just about clinched sectional honors for Farrell. Ford City, rated as one of the Steelers' chief WPAL threats, took over undisputed first place in Section One by defeating New Kensington, 58-52.

The WPAL class "A" sectional leaders now are one—Ford City (7-0); two—Greensburg and North Huntingdon (5-1); three—Farrell (7-0); four—Washington (6-0); five—Charleroi (5-0); six—Duquesne and McKeesport (6-1); seven—Scott (5-1); eight—Midland (6-0); nine—McKees Rocks (7-0); ten—Uniontown (5-0); eleven—Bellmar (5-0).

Upset

Reading meets Lancaster tonight after its Central Penn first-half title was clinched Saturday night when Harrisburg William Penn upset runner up John Harris 40-38. Reading had assured itself of at least a tie for the crown last Tuesday night by defeating defending champion Lebanon.

Meadville ran its record in the Section Two race of District Ten to 4-0 with a 60-43 victory over Titusville.

Relief Load Declines In Monroe County

Monroe county was one of 15 Pennsylvania counties to show a decrease in number of persons dependent on public assistance during the first half of January.

Although small—the Monroe reduction was one person—the decrease with others throughout the State helped whittle down in-state-wide the net increase was only 21 persons.

There were 812 persons dependent on public assistance on Dec. 31, 1951. As of Jan. 16, 1952 there were 811, a drop of 0.1 per cent.

The 811 persons represent 2.4 per cent of the county's population, a new low for the Winter season for Monroe.

This county's total assistance load is made up of 78 receiving general assistance, 356 old-age assistance, 298 aid to dependent children, 37 aid to disabled, 43 blind pensions.

Other nearby counties involved in the first half of January survey are:

Pike county to 209 persons, net increase of four; Lackawanna county to 10,690, net increase of 11; Northampton county to 2,229, a net increase of 13; Wayne county to 938, net increase of 25; Carbon county of 991, net increase of 30.

Mount Pocono

Mrs. L. T. Powers

Miss Cora Bishong has been spending the past two weeks in Worcester, Mass., at the home of her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bishong who are the proud parents of a son born to them recently. This is the third child but the first son of the Fred Bishong family.

A special benefit meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Pocono Mt. Fire Company will be held on Tuesday night at 8 at the fire hall. It will be a game party, the proceeds of which will be donated to the "March of Dimes" campaign. Each one attending is requested to bring two sandwiches, the beverage will be furnished by the committee.

Water-filled tractor tires have been found less efficient than air-filled tires on sand and loam soils.

To The Editor:

How much of the $4,187,983,600, the first year's estimated cost of UMT, do you or I want to pay in taxes? $2,158,746,200 every year thereafter. Many thoughtful sources question the wisdom of immediate action. Hanson W. Baldwin, military editor of the New York Times and America's foremost commentator on military matters, has said in that paper: "It is unlikely the UMT would be invoked by the President for some time to come, for to start it now in the midst of our present emergency would greatly complicate our preparedness program." A similar judgment is expressed in the American Veterans Committee Bulletin for December 1951 commenting on "the high cost of such a program (UMT) in addition to an already staggering defense budget" and on the "greater need for a comprehensive, equitable reserve program."

Why then the pressure at this time? Clearly a powerful military clique now in the saddle would seize a psychologically good moment to foist upon us taxpayers the stupendous burden of a highly questionable, un-American system of peace-time military conscription. A glance at Europe where conscription has been practiced for years certainly raises the question of its efficacy to ensure peace. Is it not time to think twice and to ask why? And to urge our representatives at Washington to do the same? Since this proposed legislation will in no respect meet the present emergency why not let the matter wait until it can have the serious consideration that such a radical change in American policy deserves? Here is an outlay of 39 times as much over a two year period as the entire world including the USA would spend for all the activities of the United Nations—a much better hope for world peace. To some of us it just doesn't make sense.

Sincerely Yours

Mrs. Allen Waltz, Mrs. Robert Keiper and daughter, Beverly spent Saturday morning in Wilkes-Barre where the latter took a music lesson and the ladies shopped.

The WSCS met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. William Wrick to quilt. They will meet again Wednesday at the same place.

Due to the inclement weather many members of the WSCS were unable to attend the missionary meeting held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. A. T. Blakeslee Jr.

Secret Pals were revealed and new pals drawn for the coming year.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Peter Hawk and will be a business meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess and son, David to the following: Mrs. Oliver Cobleigh, Mrs. Daniel Starnes, Mrs. William Wildrick, Mrs. Paul Blakeslee, Mrs. Allen Waltz, Mrs. Robert Keiper, Mrs. Grace Bush, Mrs. Clayton Eckley, Mrs. William Wrick, Mrs. Charles Serfoss. Before the group disbanded Mr. Blakeslee showed moving pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Frogge and son of Bethlehem spent the weekend with Mrs. Frogge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hayes.

Due to the inclement weather many members of the WSCS were unable to attend the missionary meeting held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. A. T. Blakeslee Jr.

Secret Pals were revealed and new pals drawn for the coming year.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Peter Hawk and will be a business meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess and son, David to the following: Mrs. Oliver Cobleigh, Mrs. Daniel Starnes, Mrs. William Wildrick, Mrs. Paul Blakeslee, Mrs. Allen Waltz, Mrs. Robert Keiper, Mrs. Grace Bush, Mrs. Clayton Eckley, Mrs. William Wrick, Mrs. Charles Serfoss. Before the group disbanded Mr. Blakeslee showed moving pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Frogge and son of Bethlehem spent the weekend with Mrs. Frogge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hayes.

Miss Barbara Hanna of East Stroudsburg was a recent guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Helen Hanna.

Mrs. A. T. Blakeslee Sr. left

Zone Lions Entertain At Ladies Night

Lions and their ladies of all clubs in Zone 2, District 14 K, met Friday night at the Penn-Stroud for the annual mid-winter Ladies night with over 200 being present. Clubs represented were Stroudsburg, Portland, West End, Barlett, Tobyhanna, East Bangor and Richmond.

Zone Chairman Harry J. Drennan of the Barlett club presided and welcomed all the officers. He introduced District Governor Elton Hall, who spoke briefly telling of plans for the state and international conventions this year and thanking the women for their presence and also for their work at the state convention at Buck Hill Falls.

Deputy District Governor Sidney Effross, of Portland, and former governor Arthur J. Henry, of Neffs, also spoke briefly.

Arthur Barton, of Portland, served as guest song leader and also presented gifts to the guests. Formal announcement of the formation of the Richmond club was made and the president, Richard Evans was introduced. Pres. T. Manning Curtis of the Stroudsburg club opened the meeting and other presidents introduced were Arthur Barton, Portland; Ed Bigger, Tobyhanna; Lloyd Altomose, West End; Ralph Ackerman, East Bangor; Harold Kreck, Barlett.

Entertainment was presented by the Musical Miners of Scranton, who gave ensemble and solo numbers, and also juvenile duos.

Chinese auctions were held at intervals during the party, being conducted by Wes Penner, first president of the West End club.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dennis were: Mr. and Mrs. Taft Hunt, Mrs. Minnie Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dennis, and Mrs. Donald Reish. After Sunday school Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dennis stopped in to see Mrs. Agnes Bayer and her family including the new baby, Francis. Agnes is feeling pretty well and by this time is probably downstairs. The Dennis made a day of it by going to Mt. Bethel for apples and later calling on Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brewer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bond.

Mrs. Claude Metzger and Mrs. Cecelia Anthony (who is staying with the Metzgers at the present time) visited with Mrs. Sella K. Ikerly, of Pileville on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Ikerly is the former Stella Ruth, and before her marriage lived in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dennis were Tuesday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bush. The home-made noodles were reported delicious. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Clementine Crossdale, and Mr. Robert Christian went to the auction at Hackettstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reish and Bruce and Lawrence went "tele-visioning" at Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Pennyl's on Wednesday night. On Tuesday Mrs. Reish called on Mrs. Douglas Greene, of Stroudsburg. Callers on the Green's on Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dennis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gann and daughter, Joyce, enjoyed a delicious Saturday dinner at the home of Mrs. Gann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Vaughn, of East Stroudsburg. On Sunday afternoon the Ganns attended the services at the convalescent home at Gilbert. Rev. Roy Bernard was in charge of the service and gave a very inspiring talk about the Bible. On Monday Mrs. Edward Gann called on Mrs. Ted Bush when Mrs. Bush helped her to start work on a hooked rug.

Friends in the valleys of Mr. Arlie Heller will be concerned to hear he is not feeling well. On Wednesday Mrs. Heller visited with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Dennis. Part of the day they spent with the group sewing for the summer bazaar. Others who had a jolly day together were: Verna Wagner, Ethel Brewer and Susan; Nona Reish, Carrie Dennis, Olive Reish and Bruce and Lawrence, Helen Dennis and Kathy, Jeanie and Sally, Sylvia Gann, Anna Dennis and Mae Heller. They will not meet this week but on the following Wednesday afternoon they hope to meet at the home of Mrs. Charlton Marsh.

Mrs. Ellen Byrne, Mrs. William C. Leonard, visited the former's sister, Miss Alice Byrne, State Hospital, Wilkes-Barre, on Thursday. Nicholas Call, brother of John Call, was buried in Pen Argyl on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weirich, of Stroudsburg, visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Franks during the week.

Mrs. Earl Strunk, of Buffalo, visited Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Gleogler family for the past few days. The Civic League meeting will be held on Thursday evening, January 31, at 8 p.m., in the Coolbaugh Twp. school auditorium. All citizens are invited and urged to attend.

The Barrett Twp. basketball team will play the Coolbaugh township team here on Friday evening, February 1. Preliminary game at 7:15 p. m.

You Must File Tax Return If You Made $600

(This is the first of six articles on how to make out your income tax return and save money on it.)

By Alexander R. George

Washington (AP) — High prices and higher taxes make it more important than ever that you find your lowest legitimate tax when making out your 1951 income tax return.

Every person who had income of $600 in 1951 must make a Federal income tax return. Self-employed persons under social security must make a return if their net earnings from self-employment were $400 or more.

The self-employed make their social security returns on regular income tax form 1040 and pay their social security tax (old age and survivors insurance) along with their income tax. The self-employment tax is computed on separate Schedule C.

Even persons under 21 must make an income tax return if their income was $600 or more.

Some minors and other persons who had income of less than $600 in 1951 will want to make a return anyway. They are persons who worked for a short period and received less than $600 in pay from which income tax was withheld. They will want to file a return to get a refund of the tax that was withheld. They get a refund because income of less than $600 is free from tax.

Returns on 1951 income must be filed with the collector of revenue for your district on or before March 15. If you don't know where the collector's office is located, inquire at a postoffice or a bank. (For residents of northeastern Pennsylvania, the office is in Scranton.)

Don't wait until the last day to make out your return. Doing a rush job on it at a late date may result in mistakes or omissions which will cost you extra money or trouble.

Carefully figure all your allowable deductions. The most important tax-saver for thousands of taxpayers is choosing the cheaper way of taking non-business deductions.

Among these deductions are most taxes and interest paid by you, losses from fire, storm and theft, and medical expenses. Others are contributions to religious, educational and charitable organizations.

The government gives you a two-way choice in taking these non-business deductions. You can take a standard deduction allowance, amounting to 10 per cent of your income, or you can itemize your allowable deductions and take the total of those items.

You will want to itemize your deductions if they amount to more than 10 per cent of your income. If your income is not more than $10,000 and your allowable deductions amount to less than 10 per cent of your income, it will pay you to take the standard 10 per cent allowance.

An important choice for married couples is whether to make a joint return or a separate return. The tax increase is taken care of for a large majority of married couples a joint return means a tax as small as or smaller than a separate return.

Although the tax increase became effective last Nov. 1, you don't have to calculate the amount of the boost on your return.

Two Townships In Monroe County Already Levy Legal Tax Ceiling

(This is the fourth in a series of articles on township assessments and school budgets in Monroe County.)

By Leonard Randolph

Two Monroe county townships are at the end of their legal rope. These two—Pocono and Polk—now levy the legal maximum millage rate and the highest lawful per capita tax. They cannot raise their rate of taxation by law.

As a result they will be unable to provide any necessary funds for an increase in school operation costs.

One of the two townships, according to county officials, may be forced to curtail its forthcoming budget for the school year, eliminating repairs and equipment replacement in order to meet higher salary, maintenance and utility rates.

Pocono township, in 1941, operated on a school budget of $42,265. The township millage rate was 21; its per capita tax, $5. At that time Pocono's assessed value was $825,566.

The 1946-47 school year found Pocono's assessments at $904,930. This was the first year in which Act 403 was in effect, an act which replaced the old "Edmond's" act and based State reimbursement figures on a formula in which the township's assessed value was used.

The Pocono school budget was then $57,322.91 for which residents were taxed at the rate of 23 mills per thousand dollars and $5 per capita.

State again entered the financial appropriation picture in 1950-51 when a "Tax Equalization Board" was established and the reimbursement fraction was, for the first time, based on a formula using the township's market value.

Pocono's assessments, during the years under Act 403, had risen to $981,180. Its mill rate and per capita taxation had risen to a new figure of 33 and 15 respectively—just two mills short of the legal maximum. The school budget was set at $85,480.41 for the 1950-51 school year.

During the 1951-52 school year, the legal maximum was reached. Pocono residents paid 35 mills and $15 per capita. The school budget stood at $85,069.98—third highest township budget in the county.

The assessed value of Pocono township last year was $1,071,150.

Pocono's market or true value in 1950 was $4,054,191, according to the State Tax Equalization Board. Its assessed value, by local records, was $981,180—less than one fourth its market value.

For Polk township—an area valued at $3 million less than its sister township—the record shows an equally consistent rise in both budget and taxation. The comparative figures show an approximate increase of 9.63 per cent in assessed value over the ten year period between 1941 and 1951. An increase of 147.5 per cent in cost of school operation is noted for the same length of time.

Polk township, in 1941, was assessed at $283,605. The school directors made out a budget for $25,050 and levied a millage rate of 22. The per capita tax that year was $3.

The Polk millage rate rose to 24 during the next five years. In 1946, the per capita tax was 5 dollars, with a school budget of $37,462 and an assessed value of $296,672.

During the 1950-51 school year, Polk's assessed value had risen to $302,323. Its school budget, meanwhile, was set at $53,853 for which township residents paid the legal maximum millage rate—35 mills—and just five dollars short of the legal high per capita—$10.

The maximum was reached last year. Faced with a $62,000 school budget, school directors raised the taxation figures to 35 mills per thousand dollars of assessed value; the per capita tax to $15. Polk's real estate was assessed at $310,915 during the 1951-52 school year.

Price township, where assessed value is the lowest in Monroe county, operates no schools. Its current taxation rate is 35 mills and $10 per capita.

During nine of the ten years between 1941 and 1951, Price collected no per capita tax from its residents. The $10 rate went into effect last year.

In 1941, Price, with an assessed value of $83,605, educated its eligible students at a cost of $2,973.16 and paid a millage rate of $10. Five years later, the budget had risen to $7,938.70. The 1946 assessed valuation was $91,145 upon which residents paid a millage rate of 18.

The Price school budget in 1950-51 was $8,253. Assessed value had risen to $109,956 over the five year period. A millage rate of 30 mills per thousand was levied by Price school directors. There was still no per capita tax.

The first per capita levied in Price township came one year later, during the 1951-52 school

Three Men Injured As Cars Collide

Mount Pocono—Head-on collision of two cars here Saturday morning caused injuries to three men.

Charles Harris, 37, Newark, N. J., one of the drivers, suffered bruises of the right arm and back but required no treatment.

William H. Zane, 25, the other driver, and John Smith, 49, a passenger, both of Newfoundland, were treated at the General Hospital, Zane for a bruised head and left side and Smith for forehead and nose cuts.

State police here said the accident occurred at 6 a.m. with Harris driving south on Route 611 and Zane north. Harris' car, police said, skidded on icy pavement and hit the other auto head-on. Damages were estimated at $600 to the Harris car and $800 to the Zane auto.

Services Held For Inmates

Sunday services were held for seven county jail prisoners at 4 p.m. yesterday with Rev. Clyde C. Levergood, pastor of Cherry Valley Methodist church officiating.

Others assisting in the cellblock services were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reish and sons Buddy and Byron, Glenn and Jean Reish; Mrs. Nora Reish, Henry Walks, Joan Werkheiser, Anna Mansfield, Mrs. Laura Brewer, Elva Knowles, Susan Ann Butth, Mrs. Ted Bush, Scotty Bush and Mr. and Mrs. James Cyphers.

Camp Appoints Sports Director

Donald W. Meyers, teacher of mathematics at Wilson Borough High school, has been named athletic director at the Easton YMCA Camp Hugh Beaver, Bushkill, Pike county, for the summer season of 1952.

Announcement of the choice was made by Max F. Pellen, director. Mr. Meyers was a member of the camp staff last year and served in the capacity of assistant in athletics, camp bank manager, canteen manager and also assisted in preparation of the programs given nightly in the camp.

A number of kitchen service crew men and also cabin leadership men have also been approved.

The Percy Williams Home for Actors, Pine Acres, is at East Islip, Long Island, N. Y. It was founded in 1923.
